

Continually augmented, this collection began with textiles acquired by Anjali Mangaldas since 1940s when she was a child and through her lifetime. The Gallery buys new items as and when something interesting that is missing in the collection comes along.